The Malta Psychology Profession Board would like to draw the attention of all psychologists who from time to time are appointed to act as psychological experts, to carry out their function thoroughly, keeping in view the provisions spelled out in the Code of Ethics. These functions are to be carried out in a professional manner (eg using the right professional investigations when making diagnoses), keeping in mind that the expert would be reporting on highly sensitive issues that can have very serious consequences for individuals involved.

The MPPB is confident that the majority of professionals are already performing their tasks diligently and according to ethical standards and that they will continue to do so in their practice.
